Welcome to ReachMD. This medical industry feature, sponsored by AstraZeneca, showcases Jason Day's personal story about raising awareness of the importance of biomarker testing in metastatic non-small cell lung cancer.

Let's hear his story now.

Dening Day:

It's a scary thing to have lung cancer. It's scary. The biomarker testing provided me with answers.

Jason Day:

Knowing that she was positive for the EGFR mutation, she is on a pill now that is able just to target that type of cancer that she has. Get the biomarker testing. Understand what is going on. Make a plan and stick to it and keep fighting.
